What may or may not be conducted in a referendum

- 1. The Conduct of Referenda
2. A Union referendum may exercise all powers which are necessary for the furtherance of the Union. But a referendum will not have the power to:
  - i. Decide on any matters relating to Union appointed staff members.
  - ii. Mandate Union Officers or Trustees to break the law or contravene the Union Articles and Bye-laws.
3. In accordance with the 1994 Education Act and current charity law, the Union's Board of Trustees are legally responsible for the Union's finances. A referendum decision with financial implications for the Union does not override this legal duty.
4. The Union's Referendum Returning Officer (RRO), as appointed by the Board of Trustees, shall supervise the referendum in accordance with the Articles and Bye-Laws.

Bye-Law Three

- 1.2 We will elect people in a free and fair manner, in accordance with the regulations outlined in this bye-law.
- 1.3 All regulations that apply to elections will also apply to referenda, unless otherwise specified in the constitution.

  - 2.1.3 If the person appointed to be Returning Officer is unable to discharge their duties, the Board of Trustees may appoint an alternative, in accordance with the criteria outlined in 2.1.1 and 2.1.2. This person will have the same responsibilities and authority as the original appointee.
- 2.2 The Returning Officer will have overall responsibility for the conduct and administration of all cross-campus elections. However, responsibility for interpreting elections regulations will, in the first instance, be delegated to a designated Deputy Returning Officer.

  - 2.2.2 Responsibility for appointing the Deputy Returning Officer will be delegated by the Board of Trustees to the Chief Executive Officer of the union.

This person will have the same responsibilities and authority as the original appointee.

- 2.3 The Deputy Returning Officer will convene an Elections Committee for cross-campus elections, consisting of eligible student representatives, which will meet at least twice while voting is open.
- 2.3.1 The Elections Committee shall be chaired by the Deputy Returning Officer and will consist of a full-time officer and four other elected student representatives, drawn from Student Trustees and Part-Time Officers, unless:

CAMPAIGNING

Edge Hill Students' Union undertakes, hosts or facilitates a variety of activity that might be regarded as involving campaigning or political activity. Political activity is defined by the Charity Commission as activity aimed at securing, or opposing, any change in the law or in the policy or decisions of central government, local authorities or other public bodies, whether in this country or abroad. Campaigning and political activity is undertaken by the union only in support of the delivery of its charitable objects and with due regard to the overall financial position of the union, any risks involved in the proposed activity and its other commitments and legal obligations. This statement describes the different types of activity commonly undertaken by the union or using union facilities, and sets out who to contact if you have any questions or concerns.

1. Campaigning on matters that advance the education and welfare of students

From time to time EHSU often undertakes direct campaigning activity to advance the interests of its student members, in their capacity as students. Examples might include campaigning for better contact time, higher quality student housing or a flexible lifelong learning system. Campaigning activity of this type will only be pursued outside of the university to the extent that the Trustees believe it will advance the educational experience of students at the university in furtherance of the union's charitable objects.

2. Debating activity

EHSU's democratic structures include the opportunity for students to debate, and sometimes take a position on, matters which do not affect students as students. This debating activity is intended to be educational in character and not to influence law or policy outside of the union and the university, meaning that participation in this activity advances the charitable objects of the union. The Union may reach and communicate a "corporate conclusion" on the subject matter of such debates, to the effect that a particular policy or course of action would be desirable, even if that desirability is justified in the course of debate on the effect it would have on persons who are not students. EHSU will not seek to communicate or otherwise adopt that corporate conclusion outside of the union or the university, as this may result in the activity exceeding the boundaries of facilitating educational debate within the union and the university. EHSU is committed to ensure that the processes of debate are fair, non-discriminatory and impartial, even though the subject matter of the debate may be controversial or politically contentious. The corporate conclusion reached by the union is always subject to challenge by counter-motion, reflecting the motion process as one of continuous debate. EHSU is committed to assisting those who disagree with union policy in the process of preparing a counter-motion to ensure the continuation of that policy debate.

3. Campaigning Student Groups

EHSU resources are sometimes used to support clubs, societies and student campaign groups. These are supported and dealt with in an even-handed way, with funding and other resources being made available by the union on a fair, equitable and non-discriminatory basis. This activity is intended to be educational, and so to further the charitable purposes of the union, by encouraging students to develop their political knowledge and awareness and to debate current political issues. The union does not make any direct donations to external organisations, particularly political parties, or causes, and does not permit union resources to be donated to such organisations, parties or causes by clubs, societies or student campaign groups. Students are entitled to provide personal support to political organisations, parties and causes outside the university at their individual discretion, provided they do not use union resources (including resources provided by the union to a student club, society or campaign group) to do so.

Processes

The Union's Trustee Board oversees the process by which this activity is regulated, funded and managed, ensuring that the charitable funds, property and other resources (including the time of a sabbatical officer) of the union are used to further and serve the union's charitable objects.

The Union's Board annually reviews activity and expenditure falling within the categories/definitions outlined above, publishing the results of that analysis and this statement in the Annual Report.

Anyone with questions or concerns about the activity should contact the EHSU Chief Executive.
